Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, You take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; You take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; You are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord. You alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, In the glory of God the Father. Amen.

The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God,
the Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
He descended into hell;
on the third day He rose again from the dead;
He ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God the Father Almighty;
from there He will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the Holy Catholic Church,
the communion of Saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting.
Amen.

St. Michael the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

A C U P O F J O E

Greetings in Christ, all!

Every summer since I got here, I pick some outdoor projects to work on on my day off. It helps me to do physical labor and it saves the parish some money while knocking out jobs.

This year I've gone after our handicap ramp into the rectory. It was rotted out and not usable. Apparently, it was installed when our current rectory was an office and required a handicap ramp. In the ensuing years, it had become unusable and dangerous. So, I ripped it out, disposed of the wood and planted grass where the ramp was. It was a lot of work and sweat and a lot of fun.

We also had a concrete set of stairs that were dangerous and unusable because of drainage. I took a sledgehammer to the concrete and broke a lot of it up and we're working on putting a stable set of stairs there to replace it.

Finally, you may have noticed that the west/south corner of the rectory had grown over with vines. The vines were messing up the brickwork and trying to grow into the windows so I was able to tear those out.

I've got a few other projects like this that are fun for me and save some money for our parish. I always check my work with our maintenance guy, Mark, to make sure I'm doing things that help and don't get in his way. He has more work on his plate than any one man should, God bless him, so I'm glad this helps him focus on the more pressing things.

Next week I hit the beginning of my seventh year here. I moved here on July 1st of 2018. No kidding, I've never lived this long in one place since 1992. My previous record was six years in my last assignment and before that, it was every year or every other year that I moved...whew. This is actually my first assignment where I unpacked everything!

So, I just want to thank you for letting me be your priest. It means the world to me. It is not an exaggeration to say that I thank God for being here every morning.

Thank you for your patience and kindness with my limitations. Thank you for supporting me in taking care of my Dad. Thank you for praying for me. I love you all. I thank Jesus for you.

FOLLOWING OUR FAITH

(Practicing) Catholic - Recognize God in Your Ordinary Moments

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

The Perfect Storm

I am writing this on a Saturday morning. Saturdays are my writing days, when my husband takes over the kids and the house and I disappear into the office with an enormous cup of coffee and noise-canceling headphones. Saturdays are sacred — if work can be called sacred.

But Saturday morning is also the only time I'm able to consistently get to confession. Every other time the sacrament is offered in my area during the week, I seem to have unavoidable commitments — but on Saturday morning, all I have is work, and how can I let work come before a sacrament, as much as I might secretly want to?

I've spent a good deal of time being bitter about this, because it's just not convenient, having to carve out time from work to run to the other side of town, especially when I get there and there's a line. I sit there in the sanctuary, waiting my turn, checking the clock, stewing, fretting. Obsessing over forgetting one of my sins. Thinking of how much work I have when I get home.

Saturday mornings: a perfect storm, I sometimes call it in my head.

I forge ahead, though. I've never gotten up and dashed back to my desk. I make it into the confessional and I stammer out my pathetic little list and receive absolution. Then I go before the tabernacle to perform my penance.

It's while I am kneeling there that it happens. Always. God awakens, and he cries into the depths of my heart: "Quiet! Be still! Why are you terrified? Do you not yet have faith?"

After teaching all day by the shore of the sea, Jesus asks his disciples to remove him from the crowds. He wants to escape the noise, the clamor, the disquiet. But the clamor follows him, because the world is full of it. Storms crop up wherever we go.

Jesus sleeps through the storm, because he understands what the disciples do not: the storms of the world cannot hurt us. They are only so much noise.

"Who then is this whom even wind and sea obey?" — Mark 4:41

Part Two

Holy Moments Explained -

How to Fill Your Life with Holy Moments

“God is calling you to do”

The Holy Spirit wants to guide you in wisdom in each moment of the day. When we listen to the voice of God, and do what God is calling us to do, we live deeply fulfilling lives and our souls erupt with joy.

There are so many things that we cannot change in this troubled world. When we focus on the negative our energy is quickly drained. We become anxious, stressed, overwhelmed, and exhausted, because it is demoralizing to feel helpless. But we are not helpless.

The power of Holy Moments demonstrates that we are the opposite of helpless. The principle of Holy Moments teaches us to focus on the good we can do. This energizes us. Some moments are holy, and some moments are unholy, and our choices can guide a moment in either direction. This is an enormously empowering truth.

Let Holy Moments show you what is possible.

144th Pope - John XIX

Born in Rome, he was Benedict VIII's brother, a member of the Tusculani family that followed the powerful Crescentii family as rulers of Rome. He was elected in May 1024. During his pontificate he had been elected as senator and put at the head of the temporal government of the Church. After Henry II died in Germany, Conrad II “the Salian” was elected King in 1024. In Saint Peter's, John XIX crowned him as Emperor in 1027, to help maintain relations with the German empire. He refused to consent to doubtful claims of the Byzantine court. He protected Guido d'Arezzo, the inventor of the seven musical notes, the names of which are first syllables of a psalm. Pope John XIX died December 1032.
